Breeder Comments:

Pick of the litter for me. She is happy go lucky and play driven and will learn quicker using food. She is independent and confident. She will be the kind of dog that will be glad to be with you but can also, be left alone. She has a normal energy level, not too energetic and not too lazy, she falls perfectly in the middle. Very sweet and gentle. She will make a great pet for a family full of active children or even a home with a normal energy level. She will make a lovely therapy dog and/or emotional support dog. This little beta-omega is confident and will make a WONDERFUL first time dog owner dog. You can't go wrong with this temperament.
